A Legacy of Land, Tradition, and Extraordinary Wines. Welcome to Bellacana Vineyard, the remarkable culmination of Native American heritage and viticulture excellence in Sonoma County. As the proud first Native American-owned winery in the region, we invite you to experience the unique flavors and captivating story behind our exceptional wines. While the majority of our exceptional fruit is sold to renowned wine producers throughout the county, we reserve only the finest grapes for our Bellacana wines. Crafted with meticulous attention to detail, our wines embody the essence of tradition and innovation, resulting in the highest quality and unforgettable flavors in every glass.

Bonneau winemaker John Bambury, grandson of Catherine Bonneau who first conceived of a vineyard on the family's farmland in Sonoma, has been spearheading all winemaking operations on behalf of the family business since 2000. His inaugural release of the 2002 Bonneau Los Carneros Chardonnay has led to more than a dozen widely acclaimed vintages in a growing array of varietals and styles – all of them carefully handcrafted by John and his team.

Our wine making method is faithful to that of Ourvard, the winemaker who brought prominence to Romanee-Conti in the 1830's. It is truly "methode ancienne", including handpicking, foot crushing, Native yeast fermentation and no filtering! The theory is to bring our special fruit to the bottle without manipulation. With these methods, one can easily taste the difference between the vineyards and their unique expressions of terroir.

David and DeAnn Taylor founded Cordant Winery in 2014 with the goal to produce Pinot Noir and Rhone-style wines that would become favorites in their own cellar, and hopefully those of friends, family and customers. Today we make about 3000 cases of wine per year, from Monterey County in the northern California Central Coast moving south through Santa Barbara County, a distance that covers almost 200 miles.

CHRIS HAMILTON
CELLARS

Chris and Heidi Hamilton’s love for wine began long ago, and their wine is both a nod to their heritage and an ode to their core values of loyalty, spirit and community. It is the trusted embrace of these ideals that gave birth to Chris Hamilton Cellars, serving as the totem of their journey, and highlights their commitment to expressing the inner power and primal nature of Napa Valley Cabernet in its purest form.

April and Dominic of Ektimo Vineyards lead with the intention to have each wine to showcase the character of the vineyard, the fruit of the vine, and the craft of the winemaker. They prefer wines that have pure aromatics, concentrated flavors, and an elegant structure. A great wine should make you think, but most of all it should tempt you to come back for more.

The Héroie (Spanish for hero) label offered by Sculpterra honors not only the vineyard workers of our family winery but pays respect to the unsung heroes of the wine industry. Throughout the region and beyond, the real heroes are the workers. On the back of every bottle is a picture of everyone that participated in that bottles' harvest. Héroie wines are designed to be fruit forward and easy drinking. All grapes are hand-picked from the estate vineyard and produced with just a touch of oak influence.

Hollywood screen writer Robert Kamen considers himself an “accidental” success. In 1980, he found inspiration in 280 acres on the southwestern slopes of the Mayacomas Mountains in Sonoma. With a check from his first screen play, Robert made a commitment. Viticulturist Phil Coturri was introduced to the project and shared Roberts’s philosophy on preserving the wilderness of the site and implementing as little intervention as possible. Celebrated winemaker Mark Harold makes some of the most stunning wines from this property.

Lamborn Family Vineyards is located at 2,200 feet above sea level, high atop Napa Valley's prestigious Howell Mountain appellation. This environment produces Howell Mountain Zinfandels and Cabernet Sauvignons of the highest quality and intensity. The grapes which eventually become Lamborn wines are exclusively from our organic estate vineyard. We take that formula one step further by organically farming the vineyard ourselves. Our annual farming decisions are based solely on quality and nothing else. Wine maker: Heidi Barrett

“We believe in producing intensely flavored and yet balanced wines. Our definition of balance relates to beautiful and lush aromatics, a sensuous and saturating mid palate, and a lengthy captivating finish – a complete wine from beginning to end. These are the wines we enjoy drinking and sharing with friends and family.” ~ Sam Lando

LAIRD
FAMILY ESTATE

In 1972 Ken Laird found a prune orchard in northern Napa Valley that he was able to convert to grape vines with the help of Robert Mondavi. This 70-acre vineyard was his first successful planting. Thirty years later the Laird family has become the biggest grape grower in Napa Valley. The Laird Family Estate is also a custom crush facility which houses many boutique wine makers. The Laird Family wines are made from the top 1% of their favorite fruit.

BIG. SMALL. BOLD. ELEGANT.

Majuscule is the counterpart to minuscule. In Latin it means "somewhat greater" and in French the literal definition is a capital letter. This juxtaposition of big and small embodies our winemaking style to craft elegant, fruit-forward and extremely balanced wines.

Tobin James Cellars sits among 71 acres of vineyards and oak dotted hills on the site of an old stagecoach stop in Paso Robles, California. Since 1987 Tobin James Cellars has been creating rich, intense, fruit-driven wines. Having one of the largest wine clubs in the world is a testament to the winery's commitment to producing spectacular wines. A visit to the popular Western themed Tasting Room where the wines are poured from behind the Grand Antique Bar is a must for all Paso Robles Wine Tasters.

TONDRÉ

With nearly a century of combined farming experience in Monterey County, Tondre Alarid and his son Joe planted six and a half acres of Pinot Noir in the Santa Lucia Highland appellation. The limited production, award winning Tondre Wines, reflects the exceptional terroir which allows extended fruit “hang time”. More sunlight and even ripening results in fruit with intense and distinctive flavor profiles. They recently received the “Sustainability in Practice” (SIP) certification which reflects their commitment to the land.

With a concentration on the Vega Estate Vineyard, we have sought to produce wines that are “a window to a place.” Each one of our wines is different in expression, with its own subtle, yet distinctive character and voice. Each year renews in us an intense drive to understand, react to, and work with the vineyard to allow it to reach its full potential. This process, led by our winemaker, Steve Clifton, is crucial for the execution of successful wines.

OREGON WINES

The father/daughter duo, Rachel and Mike, have been making wine together since 1998. Now, Bacus Vineyards counts 105 acres of sustainably managed vineyard farmland as part of its growing list of projects. With 10 acres of grape vines, a Heritage Vine growing program, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Rose wines, they've never been more excited about sharing their passion for wine with their customers, family and friends.

WASHINGTON WINES

The McKinley Springs story continues with the families of Bob, Scott, and Rob working together to be stewards of the land and creating a long legacy of faith, farming, and family. Andrews & Andrews & Andrews was formed 1979, and in 1980 Bob and his son Rob successfully planted what would come to be known as Block 1 of Cabernet Sauvignon. This successful planting is what propelled the family into becoming one of Washington's and Horse Heaven Hills' most successful wine grape growing families. Throughout the years, the families involved in the farm have continued to grow. New members joining the family farm have allowed for large growth in all crops and created a lasting legacy of 73 years of successfully farming of dryland wheat, irrigated crops, and wine grapes.

ARGENTINA WINES

John and his three sons assumed ownership and management of the vineyard in 2013 and produced their first Malbec vintage in 2015 in collaboration with Mark Johnson of Chateau Chantel Winery in Michigan and José Girotti of Tamascal Winery in Mendoza under the Three Boys Rock and Pirates Rock labels. Hoffmann Vineyards added Malbec Especial and Rufous Red Blend Reserve wines in 2019 and has recently planted Merlot, Syrah, Petite Verdot, Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, and Chardonnay grapes to offer more varieties and blending opportunities for our wines.

We all have a Sensei in our lives; that friend who, without the need to say a word, takes us by the hand to lead us to discover new worlds. He is the axis around which all plans seem to happen, and the facilitator of unique and inimitable experiences. He is the master of ceremonies and at the same time it is the ceremony itself....Sensei is more than just enjoying a glass of wine: it is a ceremony, a moment of pleasure and (dis)connection. It is appreciating the here and now, and discovering a new experience.

NEW ZEALAND WINES

Barker's Marque winemakers Simon and his viticulturist wife Vanessa create wine that reflects the Blind River terroir located in Marlborough, New Zealand. Handling their fruit carefully and with minimal intervention the result of their wines is of high quality with unique flavor profile – wines with crispness and minerality. The location of the vineyard sits a half a mile away from the sea that gives the soil moisture and winds that cool the temperatures during the summer seasons.
